1930-1939

Medium

Cotton, metallic thread, sequins, beads

Description

A brown and white striped cotton forms most of this 3 piece head scarf. Each end is of a redweave, each with different geometric designs in gold and silver metallic thread and blue, green, hot pink, and black cotton thread. The edging of the woven section is of red crocheted and fringed cotton with colors corresponding to geometric patterns at edges and middle of all sides. This joins to woven section with groupings of blue and gold bugle beads on one side. On other side joins with green sequins over green crocheted. At end and sides are evenly spaced beads forming loops alternating 3-1, 3-1.
