Description

This retablo represents two different images as noted by the title. The central section depicts Mary, Jesus, and Joseph dressed in blue, white, and green respectively and each are wearing similiar red crowns. On the top of the painting is the Holy Ghost with outspread arms and a dove on his front. The background is black. The image is set within a carved and ornately painted frame, with a red flower at the top center. These figures are framed by a yellow border with three levels of many black dots. Beyond the yellow are two levels of borders with floral designs and brown edges with white dots at top and bottom. A three part lunette at the top also has floral designs.
